FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Resolutions of Enquiry-Petitions against the Silver Bill-Democratic Caucus--Commit-

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.-In the House several resolutions were offered calling for inquiry into the condition of the Cuban insurrection, but they were all objected to. Reports on the Colorado election will be called up Tuesday after the morning hour.

In the Senate, during the morning hour, a number of petitions were presented, among them, several from National Banks of Boston, Massachusetts, and Providence, R. I., against the passage of the silver bill.

Burnside, of Rhode Island, submitted a resolution calling upon the President to transmit to the Senate, if not incompatible with public interests, all the correspodence had with our late minister to France in regard to the Franco Prussian war; also, the correspondence on the same subject with our ministers to England and Germany; agreed to.

The Democ atic caucus of the Senate put Voorhees on Finance; Jones, of Florida, on Naval Affairs; Harris, of Tennessee, on District of Columbia;

Butler, of South Carolina, on Military Affairs, and McDonald, on Indian Committee, with the understanding that the latter gives way to Eustis, when seated. The House Elections Committee have agreed to report in favor of seating Patterson, dem., from Colorado, by 7 to 4.

The assignment of Senator Jones to the Naval Committee is gratifying to him and representative people from the Gulf and South Atlantic coast.

Senator Butler is congratulated on his assignment to the Military Committee. The highest and most significant po-sition was given to Mr. Voorhees on

Mr. Eustis will be seated Monday. The delay was accorded to Mr. Wadeigh, who made the majority report in favor of Mr. Eustis, who wishes the affirmative vote to be as nearly unanimous as possible.

Blaine was in his seat to-day. SENATE .- The River Bill was made the special order for Tuesday next after posed of. Vote-yeas, 41; nays. 18; two-thirds voting aye. This threatens to defeat the veto should the President adhere to his message.

Mr. Matthews offered a concurrent resolution which, after referring to the various financial acts of the govern-ment, declares that all the bonds of the United States, issued or authorized to be issued, are payable, principal and in-terest, at the option of the United States in silver dollars of the coinage of the United States, containing 412½ grains each of standard silver, and that to restore to its coinage such silver coins as a legal tender in payment of said bonds, principal and interest, is not in violation of the public faith, nor in described of the public faith, nor in derogation of the rights of public creditors. Lies over.

House.—The Post Route bill was reported and passed. Adjourned.

SOUTH MILLS, N. C., Dec. 3rd, 1877.

Mr. Editor: SIR:—I respectfully ask sufficient space in your valuable paper to tender my sincere thanks, accompanied by the ow-citizens, to "Truth" for his noble. manly and magnanimous defense of our beautiful and prosperous little village. The invaluable service he has rendered us, in vindicating its hitherto spotless reputation, is highly appreciated and will be fondly cherished in our memory. We are glad to know we are in possession of friends abroad, who are even nindful of our welfare and happiness, and who are ready to repel any stigma foully heaped upon us. "fruth" has given practical demonstration of his appreciation of the kind, courteous and hospitable entertainment he received while in our midst (which is ever characteristic of South Mills) by wrenching the fair reputation of our villa home from the ruthless "paw" of a careless and reckless reporter. For this gener-ous and fraternal act, he has our deep and heart-felt gratitude and our best and heart-felt gratitude and our best wishes for his success and happiness. And should he ever do us the honor to revisit our peaceful village, he shall receive the same cordial welcome that we gave him before, and he may rest assured we will neither quarter him in a "bar room" nor a "store." I am happy to say, no devastating and destructive tornado has shattered the stately dwellings that graced our little place when lings that graced our little place when e was here; neither have the forked tongues and fearful hissings of a horrid conflagration driven our people from their comfortable residences. The other question propounded can be best answered by Mr. Psi Upsilon.

Respectfully,
THE FRIEND OF TRUTH.

Lodge Elections.

[N. Y. Advocate.] The time is approaching when the eight thousand Lodges of Free and Accepted Masons in America, will severally proceed to select those who shall rule over them for the ensuing Masonic year. No Mason should approach or discharge his part of this important transaction without careful preparative deliberation—whether he be condidate for office or not, because the well-doing of eight thousand Masters of the American Lodges will have much effect upon the million of brethren. and society at large.

The evil conduct of our bad men in high positions seems to deaden the efforts of many good men, because the than to praise, and so one bad example is bandied and heralded, while a doze good ones fall quietly and unheeded. At this time especially when the country is in the throes of financial convulsion—when every one is sensi-tively anxious about his future, and groaning over the sufferings of his present, does it behoave the brethren to carefully consider the cardinal princi-ples of our faith and order in the selection of those who shall stand forth to the world as our example men, and shall be to the craft exemplars of what

Masonry is in practical every day life A time has not occurred in this generation when the manifestation of titude, Prudence, Temperance and Justice, in the discharge of the varied duties of social, domestic, political, finanical and fraternal relations of life, are so generally needed as now.

When all are weak and many weakening, even to suicide, a true Freema-son becomes valuable to society and manifests a noble, rock-like fortitude under distress and misfortune. When the mass are acting wildly as without landmarks or leadlines—he sets an example of prudent self-restraint and becomes as oil upon the troubled waters. When impatience, excitability and drunkenness prevails around him, he is moderate and temperate; and when in the mad whirl and struggle with fate and frowning fortune, men are tempted to disregard right and law to attain wealth, power, or relief from suffering, he stands evenly balanced and exemplifies a respect for the principles of Jus-tice in his own life and conduct. Such structure founded upon a rock and is a pillar of strength to those about him.

If one such man can be found in each of the eight thousand Lodges constituting the fold of the Order in our country, now is the time he should lay hesitancy aside and take the Master's Let no brother at this time seek or accept office, simply from a love of office and show; and if one such does present himself, let no brother cast his ballot for him, knowingly.

The interests of the Order and its duty to society at large, alike demand that none but true Freemasons be put our people have suffered long, and have yet to pass under the rod; Fraternity and Christianity should vie with each other in efforts to soothe, sustain, theer and strengthen the public spirit. Brethren, select your wisest and best men to rule over you; that done, much good will follow; that neglected, our Order will be feeble in the consummaion of good works at a time when it should show its greatest strength.

Now Well and Strong.

AN IMMENSE CONGREGATION ASSEMBLED AT CUMBER-LANDSTREET M. E. CHURCH BECOMES SUDDENLY PANIC STRUCK.

Frightful Rush to Escape from the Building-Ladies and Children Trampled Upon-Windows Broken In-Fearful Leaps from the Galleries and Windows--List of the Casual-MRS. CAUDLE ON FREEMAties -- A Cry of Fire the Cause

[Norfolk Landmark, Dec. 5] It becomes our painful duty to record another disaster which, although attended by many distressing results, would have been, but for what we must consider an interposition of divine providence, a calamity of such magnitude household in Norfolk. In our notice elsewhere of the funeral of Miss Molle L. Winingder, which took place at the Cumberland street M. E. church yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, we were a few of the improvements of the company of the improvements. speak of the immense congregation which was assembled in the sacred ediwhich was assembled in the sacred edifice on that solemn occasion. Every seat in the body of the church, and in the spacious galleries which extend along the sides and across one end was filled, while the aisles and every other available standing place in the entire church were occupied. After the remains had been borne to a position in front of the altar, an awed silence fell upon the vast assemblage, which was broken by the sweet singing of a beautiful Sunday school hymn, by several little girls. The preliminary service followed, after which Rev. W. H. Christian the restill a should like to know. There's a dear. Eh? Oh, don't tell me there's nothing in it; I know better, I'm not a fool, Mr. Caudle; I know there's a good Christian, the pastor, announced his text, and had just commenced his sermon when suddenly a dozen or more ladies and gentlemen sitting near the

TOWARD THE ENTRANCES. In a moment, as it seemed, the vast congregation became panic-struck, and an appalling scene ensued. There are three broad entrances to the church, one for each aisle, and toward these the frenzied mass surged; but the scores standing near the doors and crowding the vestibule outside, partially choked up these outlets and the jam became fearful. Ladies ran hither and thither, shricking and pleading to be saved. many swooned and fell upon the seats and floor, several were knocked down by the human tide rushing through the sisles and trampled upon.

Little children with terror-stricken faces were running in every direction searching for their parents, and crying loudly in the agony of their fear. Many of them were caught in and borne along by the current towards the front of the church. Half crazed ladies, and not a few gentlemen in the same state, broke out the windows and leaped from the

THE MOST FRIGHTFUL SCENES were enacted in the galleries; many attempted to jump from the loftly win-dows, which would have been almost sure death, but were restrained by those who, fortunately, retained their presence of mind. Several leaped from the gallery rail to the body of the church, and one lady seizing hold of a gas pipe arms bady larcerated. A report that the church was in flames spread like wildfire, and an alarm was sounded, der. From our position within the al-tar rail, we commanded a view of the whole church, but

THE SCENE PRESENTED BEGGERS DE-SCRIPTION. At last nearly all those who were able to walk had left the church but some remained behind to care for those lying in a deathly swoon. Water was pro-cured, and they were gradually restored

The cause of the panic is as follows: Miles Whitbee, colored, the sexton, built a fire in a small stove in the steward's room, in the basement of the church, about the time that the funeral cortege arrived, as there was to be a meeting of that efficial body. The meeting of that efficial body. The meeting of that efficial body. The stove smoked, and the room becoming filled, he opened one of the windows in order that the smoke might escape. A large volume of it rushed out, and, rising, entered an open window above, A lady sitting near this window seeing the smoke thought that the building was in flames, and springing from her seat cried out: "The church is on fire," with the appalling result described above.

but to my dear husband? I should be miserable to keep it to myself, and you know it. Now Caudle? Own indeed! A brute!—yes, Mr. Caudle. an unfeeling, brutal creature, when you might oblige me, and you won't. I'm sure I don't object to your being a Mason, not at all Caudle; I dare say it's a very good thing; I dare say it is—its only your maight above. above.

ACCIDENTS AND INCIDENTS. Miss Ella Stott, residing on Chapel street, had her back broken by leaping from the gallery. Miss Barnes, residing on Freemason street, also had her back broken by leaping from the gallery and falling across the arm of a seat, Mrs. of life—the father of a family. I should Mary Edmunds, residing on West Queen street, had one of her ankles dislocated.

Mrs. Frank Dann was thrown into convulsions, from which she had not recovered at last accounts. Miss Ruth Murum. Nice goings on, I dare say. Then den fainted, and was with great difficul-ty restored to consciousness. Mrs. Wm. Graham and Mrs. Wm. Face also fainted, and had to be taken to their men. Nice goings on, I dare say. Then you call one another brethren. Breth-ren! I'm sure you had relations enough, you didn't want any more. "But I know what all this Masonry's Wm. Graham and Mrs. Wm. Face also fainted, and had to be taken to their homes in hacks. A lady was discovered lying between two benches in an unconscious state after dark last night by the sexton. A number of ladies received minor injuries. Master Charles Aydlotte, only seven years of age, jumped from the gallery and escaped uninjured.

"But I know what all this Masonry's from your wives and families, that you may feast and drink together, that's all. That's the secret. And so abuse women—as if they were inferior animals and not to be trusted. That's the secret, and nothing else.

"Now Caudle don't let us quarrel. jumped from the gallery and escaped uninjured.

Messrs. Jacob Glemm and E. U. Balleutine, two of the pall-bearers, remained by the casket during all of the excitement, and protected it from in-excitement, and protected it from in-jury. They were assisted by two young gentlemen named Leonard Simmons and J. J. Burke. Rev. S. L. Thrift who occupied the pulpit with Rev. Mr. Christian, was among the first who left the building. He leaped from one of the windows.

Mr. W. F. Gregory rendered valuable assistance during the panic. Most of the windows and doors of the church were broken, and we are officially in-formed that the damages will not fall By our Late Brother Douglas Jerrold--- Caudle has been Made a Mason--Mrs. Caudle Indiguant and Curlous, should feel thankful that so few were seriously injured. There was no fire in the basement of the church with the exception of the one previously men-tioned, and there was not the slightest occasion for the panic. Even if the church had been on fire, the means of egress were sufficient for all. We were surprised to see many gentlemen display a thorough lack of self-possession, and rush widly toward the entrances to escape.

Coolness and presence of mind are all important on such trying occasions We hope that a simular disaster wil never occur in our city again.

"Now, Mr. Caudle! Mr. Caudle, I say: oh! you can't be asleep already, I know—now, what I mean to say is this: there's no use, none at all, in our having any disturbance about the matter, but, at last my mind's made up, Mr. Caudle; I shall leave you. Either I know all you've been doing to high; or to-morrow morning I quit the house. No, no; there's an end of the marriage state, I think—an end of all confidence between man and wife—if a husband's to have secrets and keep 'em all to himself. Pretty secrets they must be, when his own wife can't know 'em. Not fit for any decent person to know, I'm sure, if that's the case. Now, Caudle, don't let us quarrel; there's a good soul, tell me nothing in it; I know better, I'm not a fool, Mr. Caudle; I know there's a good deal in it. Now, Caudle, just tell me a little bit of it. I'm sure I'd tell you anything. You know I would. Well? "Caudle, you're enough to vex a saint! Now don't think you're going to sleep, because you're not. Do you suppose I'd ever suffered you to go and be made a Mason, if I did'nt suppose I was to know the secret, too? No: that it's anything to know, I dare say; and that's why I'm determined to know it. "But I know what it is; oh yes, there "But I know what it is; oh yes, there can be no doubt. The secret is to ill-use poor women; to tyrannize over 'em; to make 'em your slaves; 'specially your wives. It must be something of the sort, or you wouldn't be ashamed to have it known. What's right and proper never need be done in secret. It's an insult to a woman for a man to be a Freemason, and let his wife know nothing about it. But, poor soul! she's sure to know it somehow—for nice husbands they all make. Yes, yes; a part of the secret is to think better of all the world than their own wives and families; I'm sure men have quite enough to care for—that is if they act properly—to care for them they have at home. They can't have much care to spare for the world

"And I suppose they call you Brother Caudle? A pretty brother, indeed! Going and dressing yourself up in an apron like a turnpike man, for that's what you look like. And I should like to know what's the apron for? There must be something in it, not very respectable, I'm sure. Well, I only wish I was Queen a day or two, I'd put an end to Freemasonry and all such trum-

which brought the fire department promptly upon the ground, but their services were not needed. The Rev. Mr. Christian did not leave his post, neither did he for an instant lose his presence of mind, but in a tone of voice as loud as he could command, he assured the congregation that there was no danger, and besought all to retire quietly. His appeals, however, did quietly. His appeals, however, did not seem to be heeded by the wildly excited mass. Other gentlemen veryably assisted him in his efforts to restore orhe keeps a secret that sets him and his wife apart? Ha! you men make the laws and you take good care to have all the best of them to yourselves; other-wise a woman ought to be allowed a divorce when a man becomes a Masonwhen he's got a sort of cornercupboard in his heart, a secret place in his mind that his poor distressed wife is not allowed to rummage!

Upon the whole, the message has made a most favorable impression upon the country, especially the portion relating to his treatment of the South. As well said by the Philadelphia Times, "the President naturally gives the first place to the greatest work that has engaged his attention, 'the ensuring of domestic tranquillity.' On his inauguration the present Executive found the country in a frame of mind not so remote from actual civil strife as many imagined. It was his first aim, to his honor be it said, to give the nation peace. This he may fairly claim to have done and in the face of obstacles that brought about the better state of affairs that is now presented, he has not thought it necessary to revive animosities and challenge criticism by going very fully into the problem that he was called upon to solve, nor to explain the method of solution. An Open Letter to the Public. NEW YO. K. October 1, 1877. I hav devoted twen years of patient study to the Liver and its relations to the human body, in search of a remedy which would restore it, when diseased, to its normal co-dition. The result of that labor has been the production of TUTTT'S LIVER PILLS.

Their popularity has become so extended and the demand so great as to induce unscrupulous parties to counterfeit them, thereby ROBB'NG ME of the reward, and the afflicted of their virtues. To Caution the Public.

and protect hem from vile impositions, aave adoned a new label, which bears my trade-mark and notice of its entry in the Office of the Libracian of Congress, also my exert a peculiar influence on the system. Their action is prompt, and their good effects are felt in a few hours. A quarter of a century of the study of the Liver has demonstrated that it exerts a greater influence over the system than any other or gan of the body, and when diseased the entire organism is deranged. It is specially fir the healing of this vital organ the till have spent so many years witten to the sproved the greatest boon ever furnished the affilted. Shall they be deprived of its benefiss, and a vile imitation imposed upon them? them?

Let the honest people of America see to it that they are not defrauded. Scrutinize the laber closely, see that it bears all the marks above mentioned, and buy the medicine only from respectable dealers. It can be found everywhere.

GENERAL NOTES.

Nine women have been elected county superintendents of schools in Illinois at this year's county elections. Mary Monica Maxwell Scott, greatgrand-daughter of Sir Walter, is a con vert to the Roman Catholic faith.

General Ord, who is now in Washington, thinks that there is a probabili-ty of war with Mexico. He says the Mexicans expect it, and think they can whip the Yankees as easily as they did the French under Maximilian.

A Chicago man pleaded guilty to sending a postal card containing objectionable matter, and the Government counsel recommended him to the leniency of the court on the ground that the offensive words were addressed to the prisoner's mother-in-law.

Mr. Justice Harlan is the first representative on the Southern side of Mason and Dixon's Line that has sat on the Supreme Bench since the resignation of John A. Campbell, then of Alabama, now of Louisiaua, whom President Pierce appointed.

Mrs. Woodman, of Greenwich, Conn., is an ancient lady of ninety-four, who remembers shaking hands and talking with Washington when she was a school girl. "General George" came into the school, conversed with the pupils, and kissed the young girl at the head of the class. A distinguished reward of merit indeed.

New York Times: If, two years age, any ex-Confederate statesman were to have formally announced that the South would consent to be conciliated provided the Republican Party in the Southern States were to be disbanded. and the virtual control of the Federal Government were to be handed over to Wade Hampton and his class, the announcement would have been regarded as impertinent and absurd, and the North would have promptly refused to conciliate the South by making any such sacrifice. But time has worked wonders, and the South is now conciliated, and has everything that it wants.

Andrew Johnson, it is said, preserved all his papers and died leaving them in the upper story of a shop in Greenville. Throughout his life he carefully saved all his papers and even took to Greenville complete files of three daily pa-pers of New York, covering his presilential term. Of telegrams alone he must have left more than a bushel in a compact form. He saved them all: none were considered of so little impor tance as not to be worth saving. He remarked once how little space a folded letter would take up, and what small trouble to save them, and how important they sometimes became.

One of the funny things about the case of Senator Eustis, of Louisiana, is that the committee on privileges and elections decides that he is only entitled to consider himself a Senator from Janmarkable conclusion is not stated. Mr. Eustis was chosen in 1873 for the term beginning on March 4, of that year, and if he is entitled by that election to the benefits of any part of the term, which will end on March 4, 1879, he is entitled to all. It appears, however, that Pinchback got all the money for the first three years, so that, so far as the profits are concerned, it is a pretty fair divide.

London Editors and Their Pay. The London newspapers who keep correspondents in the field deal munificently with them. The offices furnish them with everything. Each of them has at least two horses, which the office pays for, and one or more servants. Forbes, the correspondent of the News, receives a clear salary of $5,000 a year, and all his expenses paid. This $5,000 is in the shape of a retainer. He is paid that amount by the News to retain his services, so as to prevent his writing for any other journal. When he is actually at work, then he is paid an additional amount, but he would receive the $5,000 were he not to do a stroke of work within the twelve months.

As stated in a former letter, editorial writers are not an office fixture here as in America. The men who furnish augld3m editorials for an Englishh paper may or may not be professional writers—that is, writers for newspapers. They may be magazinists, or novel writers, or almost anything else. They occupy somewhat the position of the mercenary soldier whose fealty is due to the power which pays him during the period for which he employed.

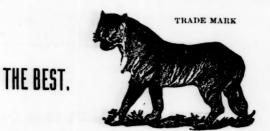

Suppose the London Times wishes to retain the services of Professor Musty Dryasdust for a leader writer. The editor sends for him, or to him, announces the wish, and if the professor consents he is paid a retainer, which varies according to the man employed. The retainer engages him for the Times, and he cannot write for any other daily paper. It does not, however, guarantee him constant. him constant employ ever, guarantee him constant employment. He may have been retained to write on will cases, and he writes only when there is a demand for an article on wills. A journal may have five or fifty men thus retained. Each day the editor decides what he wishes written assigns the subjects to the proper men, and pays them "by the piece." A retaining fee varies, of course, according to the quality of the man. As I have been told, and above said, Forbes, of the News, has a retainer each year of $5,000. The retainer does not usually clude payment for services rendered. Editorials on the Times are paid for at rates varying from two to five guineas —Attention! Members of the Raleigh Light Infrantry will meet promptly at Metropolitan Hall this (Friday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, in full uniform for the parade.

-The funeral services of the infant of Frances and Eudoran Greundler will be held at Person street M. E. church at 3 p. m., this afternoon, instead o at the residence, as announced in yesterday's NEWS.

-Wilmington and Weldon Railroad stock is quoted at $102 per share in Baltimore. This certainly speaks well for the management of the road. Hon. R. R. Bridgers, has been President of the company for the last fifteen years.

-From the Roanoke News of the 5th inst., we learn that the splendid iron bridge of the Peterburg and Weldon Railroad company across the Roan-oke river just beyond Weldon sunk down into the channel of the river during the late freshet and is very little injured. It will be replaced at an early day.

Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Insane Asylum. SECOND DAY'S SESSION.

The Board of Directors of the Insane Asylum met at the institution yester-day at 9 o'clock A. M., all the members present. Dr. E. Burke Haywood, president, in the chair.

The action of the board amounts to an entire re-organization in the management of the affairs of the institution. New by-laws were regard to the management which dispenses with the service of several endowers among them. Assistant Fusion neer, Gardner, and Assistant. No action whatever was taken by the present board in regard to the election of Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent. The matter was left over for consideration by the new board, which assumes control of the Institution on the 1st of March, 1878, in accordance with the act of the last General Assem-bly, the present incumbents holding over from the 1st day of January 1878 to March 1st following. The board cre-ated the office of Second Assistant Phy-

This position will be filled by the Superintendent, and his assistant, subject to the approval of the Executive Committee. It is understood that this appointment is to hold only until the 1st day of March 1878.

The election of officers for the year 1878, resulted as follows: Steward—James H. Moore, of Halifax county.

Treasurer-E. Burke Haywood, Jr. of Wake.

Engineer—Jas. S. West, Raleigh. Matron-Mrs. M. A. Lawrence, of

Granville county.

Executive Committe—Julius Lewis, A. M. McPheeters and J. M. Pool of Raleigh.

The salaries of the officers for the ensuing year were fixed by the board. The Steward at $800 per annum, and board. Treasurer, $600. Engineer, $1,000, house and vegetables. Matron, $600. A resolution was adopted making an entire change in the system of purchasing supplies for the Institution. The details of which will appear in the negular proceedings when furnished by the Secretary of the board. In this connection we would state that, owing to the session of the board it was not possible for the Secretary to prepare the proceedings for the press, yester day. He will do so, however, at the earliest moment possible. The meeting was one of the most important ever held in the history of the institution—very important business was transacted. The board met at 9 A. M., yesterday, and continued in sesthe first time the board has remained in session two full days at the regular annual meeting.

An Excellent Selection. At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Insane Asylum held at the Institution yesterday, Mr. James S. West of this city was elected engineer, vice John F. Curfman. Mr. Wesh is one the few young men of Raleigh against whom nothing can be said. He is an excellent engineer and mechanic, and a gentleman of high standing in this community. He has been connec-ted with the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad Company for the past twenty years. While the Railroad Company loses a very efficient officer, we must congratulate the Board of Directors of the Insane Asylum on the admirable selection of an ergineer. We are satisfied that he will perform the duties pertaining to the position zealously, nd to the entire satisfaction of the officers of that great State Institution.

United States Circuit Court. The Court met in Metropolitan Hall, this city, yesterday at 10 A. M. The case of G. Ober & Sons, of Maryland, vs. Bryan Grimes, of North Carolina,

The examination of witnesses concluded, and the argument followed. Hon. W. N. H. Smith and Col. T. C. Fuller for the plaintiffs. Hon. D. G. Fowle. Hon. R. C. Badger and T. P. Devereux, for the defendant. Argument finished at 7 P. M. when the case was given to the jury. The Court adjourned until

PANLICO COUNTY.

[Special Correspondence of the NEWS.] Pamlico county is very justly termed water county, being bounded on the south by Neuse river, on the east by Pamlico Sound and on the north by Pamlico river and Beaufort county. In crops we can raise almost anything. grasses being especially adapted to our county. Probably no section of the State can show a better yield of grass than Pamlico. Grass growing is in its infancy, and but few have tried it. If we can get cotton out of our heads, and devote more of our land to cereals, especially wheat and corn, and the grasses we could in a short time improve our farms, and like the old Mohawk Farmer

The following report, which we find in the Charlotte Observer was made by the committee of the A. M. E. Conference (colored) in session at Salisbury, on the "state of the country:"

Dear Bishop and Brethren: We, your committee on the State of the Country, beg leave to report as follows: Many have been the obstacles in the way of harmony among the masses of North Carolina and the South generally. Our people have been discourged in the effort to acquire and beautify homes of their own. Agricultural advancement sion with a slight intermission for dinner, until 6:30 P. M. We believe this is has languished. In fact all the interest that go to make a State or country great unsettled state of things. Many have been the prayers of the good people of this and and all other States that prosversed, that not since 1860 has there been such a tranquility in this State, perity, harmony and enterprise would again bless this country of ours. Even a year ago many fears were entertained as to what the future of the country would be. But by close observation it is declared by all with whom we have conand in the South generally, as within the past year. Never have the colored people of this State been so greatly encouraged to purchase lands and build themselves comfortable mansions and be happy in this country to-day. Agricultural enterprise is being encouraged; education is becoming prominent in the minds of all the good men of both races in North Carolina. The State has taken in hand the education of teachers for our race. One thing in this direction is quite gratifying and that is that Governor Z. B. Vance has been the leader in this gracious work of elevating our people. And the Govern-or could not have introduced a more im-ence do all in his power to further the most elevated and happy condition of New York. Come and see for yourself.
